An Invitation to Apply:
School of Nursing
Family Nurse Practitioner Faculty Member
Instructor/Assistant Professor

THE SEARCH
The School of Nursing (SON) at Oregon Health & Science University (OHSU) seeks applications and nominations for the position of instructor/assistant professor in the family nurse practitioner program (FNP). The University, one of the most vibrant academic health centers in the US, holds the mission of healing, teaching, discovery and service. The University and the School of Nursing bring teachers, students, research scientists and health care professionals together to collaborate in finding new ways to improve human health. The School of Nursing faculty are addressing today’s health care challenges, locally and globally, through excellence in teaching, research, quality health care and community service.

This FNP faculty member will focus primarily on either the teaching and health care missions or teaching and research missions. We are flexible in how the particular position is structured, i.e. with a focus on research or practice. For the individual who is interested in developing new practice opportunities, OHSU offers such a possibility. The School of Nursing advanced practice (APRN) faculty are committed to further development of a faculty practice which would offer primary care to Oregon citizens. The state is moving forward rapidly in the development of Coordinated Care Organizations (CCO’s) as a means for delivering high quality, cost effective care to our Medicaid population. There are unprecedented opportunities for developing and testing innovative models of primary care. We are seeking an individual who can provide leadership in this endeavor.

For the individual who is interested in a focus on research and scholarship, we also offer that opportunity. We have a strong research infrastructure, with consultation services, pre and post grant management, and support for start-up.

QUALIFICATIONS
1. Education: Earned (or nearing completion) Doctoral degree in nursing or related field required.
2. Registrations, Certifications and/or Licenses: Eligibility for an Oregon RN license, and Oregon and National certification as an FNP.
3. Experience: A minimum of two years of practice as a family nurse practitioner. Experience in a faculty practice or a record of research/publication preferred.
TO APPLY:
The executive search firm, The Hollander Group, has been selected to assist the search committee in its efforts for this recruitment.

Review of candidates will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Applications - comprising cover letter, curriculum vitae and list of professional references with contact information – should be submitted in electronic form to info@thehollandergroup.net. Note that no references will be contacted without the permission of the candidate. Requests for additional information and nominations for the position should be directed to:

Clifford R. Hollander, PhD or Sharon M. Flynn Hollander
Email: info@thehollandergroup.net
Phone: 202-270-8772
Website: http://www.thehollandergroup.net

Oregon Health & Science University values a diverse and culturally competent workforce. Individuals with diverse backgrounds and those who promote diversity and a culture of inclusion are encouraged to apply. OHSU provides reasonable accommodations for applicants with disabilities. We are proud to be an equal opportunity, affirmative action organization.

ABOUT OREGON HEALTH & SCIENCE UNIVERSITY
Oregon Health & Science University (OHSU) is a leading health and research University that strives for excellence in patient care, education, research and community service. With roots back to 1887, OHSU has a long and outstanding history of dedication to improving the health and well-being of people in Oregon and beyond. As a public corporation, OHSU provides world-class knowledge for the most complex, and the most common of health care needs.

OHSU also provides leading and often world-renowned educational services through its schools, and is the only place in Oregon that grants doctoral degrees in medicine, dentistry and nursing.

- School of Medicine
- School of Nursing
- School of Dentistry
- College of Pharmacy (offered jointly with Oregon State University)

OHSU serves as a catalyst for the region's bioscience industry and is an incubator of discovery, averaging one new breakthrough or innovation every three days, with more than 4,100 research projects currently under way.
Beyond providing critical health care services, quality health care education, and cutting-edge research, OHSU also is a key economic and social force in the Northwest. With an annual budget of $1.4 billion and more than 13,600 employees, OHSU is Portland’s largest, and the state’s fourth largest employer (excluding government).

THE SCHOOL OF NURSING AT OREGON HEALTH & SCIENCE UNIVERSITY

About the School of Nursing
The School is dedicated to excellence in nursing education through lifelong learning; compassionate, high-quality care of individuals and communities; and the comprehensive pursuit of knowledge and discovery.

The School’s faculty include nationally and internationally renowned scholars, educators, and clinicians dedicated to excellence in the pursuit of knowledge and discovery, the holistic and compassionate care of individuals and communities, and the professional development of each member of the school within a nurturing environment.

Bachelor's and Master's degree programs focus on the development of critical thinking and judgment, understanding of health systems and economics, interdisciplinary care, public health and communications in a variety of health care settings. Master's degree programs also prepare students for advanced practice or as public health professionals. Doctoral and postdoctoral programs prepare graduates for scholarly inquiry, independent research, and leadership in the healthcare arena.

The faculty members of the School value an educational community that fosters excellence, creativity, self-reflection, accountability, respect for diversity, and lifelong learning.

The OHSU School of Nursing has a rich history that dates back to 1910. The School continues to build new partnerships and keeps moving into the future of Nursing by offering the community up-to-date curriculum, faculty and staff.

The OHSU School of Nursing is a statewide system of higher education whose faculty, staff, and students extend to six campuses with major educational access sites throughout Oregon. The campuses of OHSU School of Nursing (Ashland, Klamath Falls, La Grande, Monmouth Portland and virtual) are internationally recognized for excellence in research.

School of Nursing faculty members believe that nursing science is not an end in itself, but rather a systematic process used to enhance nursing practice and improve the health care of individuals, families and communities. The School consistently ranks among the top nursing schools funded by the National Institutes of Health (NIH). The combined efforts at the five campuses contribute to education, practice, research and technology that enable students and faculty to provide advanced education and health care services throughout Oregon.
OHSU School of Nursing is committed to sustaining a diverse community of faculty, staff, and students within all education, clinic, and practice settings. OHSU School of Nursing believes diversity to be fundamental to its educational mission. OHSU School of Nursing works to enhance and sustain an integrated community for learning among faculty, students and staff, as well as to recruit, develop, and retain the most effective, most diverse student body, faculty, and staff to carry out the varied missions of the institution statewide. The School believes that the quality of learning and the development of citizenry are enhanced by an organizational climate of inclusion, understanding, and an appreciation of the full range of the human experience.

Through strategic alliances, community building, and forums on issues affecting the changing demographics across the state of Oregon and the rest of the country, the School of Nursing pledges its commitment to the education of nurses and nurse leaders that will provide excellent care to underserved and ethnic populations.

SON Academic Programs
The School of Nursing offers a full range of academic programs. Programmatic details can be found at [OHSU SON Programs]:

- BS with a major in nursing program
- Accelerated BS Program
- Accelerated Baccalaureate to Master's
- Advanced Practice Gerontology (PMCO)
- Family Nurse Practitioner
- Health Systems & Organizational Leadership
- Nurse Anesthesia
- Nursing Education
- Nurse Midwifery
- Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioner
- Public Health
- Selected graduate programs now offered via distance delivery:
  - Master's Degree in Public Health
  - Master's Degree in Nursing Education

According to US News and World Report, the School ranks # 1 for the Certified Nurse Midwife Program, # 6 for the Family Nurse Practitioner Program and #7 for the Master of Science in Nursing Program.

School of Nursing Centers
Hartford Center
The OHSU Hartford Center of Geriatric Nursing Excellence is dedicated to educating nurses, nurse leaders and nurse researchers in the field of gerontological care and to advancing knowledge in this field.
Oregon Geriatric Education Center
The Oregon Geriatric Education Center (OGEC) is dedicated to improving the care of older adults in Oregon through collaborative, interdisciplinary, continuing education and professional development.

Simulation & Clinical Learning Center
The Oregon Health & Science University Simulation & Clinical Learning Center (SCLC) was developed through the collaborative vision of the OHSU Schools of Medicine and Nursing. Its main goal is to facilitate the provision of simulation into the health care curriculum at all levels. Computer based software, skill task trainers, mid-fidelity and high fidelity simulation equipment and experiences are facilitated here.

Vision of the School of Nursing
The OHSU School of Nursing provides the people of Oregon with world class care that fosters optimal health through outstanding leadership by:
- Preparing excellent leaders.
- Fostering a passionate learning environment that is inspired and energized.
- Building collaborative partnerships with health systems and communities.
- Serving as a global magnet for attracting the best students, faculty and staff.
- Making significant national and global contributions to innovative care.

Mission of the School of Nursing
The mission of the OHSU School of Nursing is to provide leadership in nursing and healthcare through thoughtful innovation in healing, teaching and discovery.

School of Nursing Values
We value integrity, respect, social justice, diversity, collaboration and the science, art, and heart of healthcare.

SON Students
In Fall 2011 more than 1,000 students were enrolled in the School of Nursing’s Bachelor’s (BS), Master’s (MN), Doctoral (PhD and DNP) and post-doctoral programs.

SON Faculty
In Fall 2011 the School had 180 full-time and part-time faculty.

Accreditation
The Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE) has accredited the Bachelor of Science (BS) in nursing, Master of Nursing (MN), and Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) degree programs.

The Nurse-Midwifery program is accredited through 2021 by the Accreditation Commission for Midwifery Education (formerly known as the ACNM Division of Accreditation), American College of Nurse-Midwives (ACNM).
The Nurse Anesthesia program is accredited by the Council on Accreditation of Nurse Anesthesia Educational Programs through October 2019.